

Neil R. Zimmerman

Since beginning my journey in the Alberta legal community, I have dedicated my career to the practice of civil litigation, navigating the unique challenges of our province's legal landscape. Currently practicing with Brownlee LLP in Calgary, I have had the distinct privilege of collaborating with an incredible class of litigators and professionals. This experience has not only sharpened my advocacy skills but has also provided me with a grounded perspective on the evolving needs of Alberta practitioners. I view the law not just as a career, but as a commitment to professional excellence and community service, which has driven my involvement with the Canadian Bar Association since I first joined as an articling student in 2019.

My dedication to the CBA is rooted in a firm belief that this organization is an essential element of professional growth, providing the networking, education, and advocacy required to sustain a healthy Bar. I have put this belief into action through my leadership within the Insurance Law (South) Section Executive, where I have served as Treasurer, Chair, and currently as Past-Chair. During my tenure, I worked diligently with the team to bridge the gap between educational benefits and social connection. By developing an engaging speaker series available to lawyers of all vintages and fostering the growth of social initiatives like our annual Lawn Bowling tournament, I have proven that I can support a vibrant, engaged membership.

If elected to the Alberta Branch Board of Directors, I will bring this same energy, enthusiasm, and proven track record to the provincial level. I want to help the CBA grow its services and amplify its voice as a tireless advocate for the interests of Alberta lawyers. I am eager to contribute to the Board as the CBA continues to be a productive and indispensable resource for Alberta's legal practitioners, now and in the future. I would be honoured to earn your vote and the opportunity to serve our profession at this level.
